

PSALM 46

God is our shelter, our strength and power; quickly to aid us, in trouble each hour.

- 2 So we will not fear, though earth is discarded; though mountains fall, into the sea's heart.
- 3 Though waters roar, boil and quake; though mountains in all, their majesty shake.
- 4 A river with rills, brightens God's town; His holy home, where the Highest sits down.
- 5 God's at her center, and she'll never waver; God is her aid, like the dawn with His favor.
- 6 The nations all shouted, and kingdoms were fallen; earth melted in fear, at the sound of His calling.
- 7 The Lord with His armies, beside us we see; the God of Jacob, a cliff where we flee. (Pause)
- 8 Walk and gaze, at the Lord's mighty works; what wonderful things, He does in the earth.
- 9 Wars are put down, in every nation; breaks bows and snaps spears, burns up transportation.
- 10 Slow down and admit, that I'm God alone; high above nations, over earth on My throne.
- 11 The Lord with His armies, beside us we see; the God of Jacob, a cliff where we flee. (Pause)
